GREEN TOMATO

Stretching the fruit based political metaphor well beyond breaking point.

Green Fist Slate Young Greens Elections

The Young Green Elections are an important part of our intervention into the activities of the Green Party. It is essential that we ensure as full control of the Young Greens National Committee as possible. In order to do this, it is essential that whilst members of Green Fist are free to vote whichever way they like, you should vote in a disciplined way along the lines of our electoral slate:

Congratulations Baroness Jones

In an excellent run of good luck for Jenny Jones this year, following her Bronze Medal in Sochi, ascending to the house of Lords, winning the official “most taxi’s taken by a member of the London Assembly” award, and now she has a new Radio show on Radio 5 live. In “Extreme with Jenny Jones” she will discuss her journey to domestic extremism, with guests from the Metropolitan police, and other law enforcement agencies, and Veronon Bogdanor will discuss the constitutional implications of a domestic extremist in the House of Lords.
